Timber Frame Custom Home, Glenville, N.Y. The wood used for the trim, casing and baseboards for this unique home was harvested from the property and milled on site. As an energy-savings effort the home was situated for southern exposure and spray-foam insulation was used.

Addition/Kitchen Remodel, Scotia, N.Y. This historic home received an addition, adding an extra half bath, back entryway, family room and studio. The new custom kitchen boasts cherry cabinets with crown molding, under-cabinet lighting, granite countertops, and hardwood floors with custom inlay.

Bath Remodel Rexford N.Y. Beautiful expanded bath with in-lay porcelain tile, walk-in shower, double vanity, armoire, granite countertops and soaking tub.

Having grown up learning the construction trade from parents Bruce and Sharon Bellamy, Greg and Brian Bellamy's decision to enter the family business was not only a right of passage but a decision inspired by a true appreciation for building. The Scotia-based business, B.W. Bellamy & Sons Construction, now Bellamy Construction, was started in 1975.

Today the company that started out solely as a remodeling firm has grown into a business that offers a diverse range of services including excavation, trenchless technology, custom homes, remodeling and general home improvement. Much like the husband and wife team that founded Bellamy Construction, team Bellamy has grown to include Greg and Brian's wives, Katie and Tanya along with approximately 24 other employees.

Bellamy Construction's reputation of being family-owned and providing superior customer service is what has made them one of the area's most trusted construction companies for more than 30 years. Remodeling Magazine inducted Bellamy to its Remodeling Big50 for impact on community, professionalism, integrity and taking the lead in raising the industry standards.

One of the company's greatest strengths — besides extraordinary craftsmanship — is to offer its clientele a single point of contact, i.e., working one-on-one with homeowners through the process of zoning, building permits, design, product selection and construction.
